Harridan Vodka

har-ri-dan / 'herəd(ə)n/

a strict, Bossy, or Belligerent old woman.

We want to tell a new story.

One with an earnest commitment to quality – which means organic, gluten-free ingredients grown by local family farmers in upstate New York;

One with a fervent appreciation of craftsmanship – which means bottles blown from recycled glass and hand-dipped in black wax.

One with female main characters – which means a company that is female-founded, female-owned, and committed to empowering women in any way that we can;

And one that's 88 proof – ...which simply makes things more interesting.

Cheers to the Spirit of Defiance.

We triple distill using only 100% certified organic local corn, grown by New York local farmers.

Harridan sets a new standard for premium vodka. Its over proof strength — 88 proof to be exact — is an homage to the bossy, defiant women of the past that inspired the brand's namesake. Female-owned and thoughtfully crafted, we're everything the spirits industry says we shouldn't be.

Most people believe all vodkas taste the same. Not ours. It was designed to be remembered, not lost in mixers. Some have called us the best craft vodka yet, but we will settle for your favorite. $42.95/btl
